MetalTech-USA Adds New Sales Reps

PEACHTREE CITY, GA., April 12, 2010 – MetalTech-USA, a premier distributor and fabricator of coils, sheet and architectural metal products, has brought several new independent reps on board to better serve their customers.

Jamieson Droheim, of Tri-State Supply, will cover Connecticut, New York, Rhode Island and Massachusetts. Droheim is an expert at metal sales with over 20 years experience in the field. Droheim takes a holistic approach to sales. “I like to be involved in the whole process from specification of the product all the way through completion of the project,” he said. “I’m excited to be associated with MetalTech-USA and their product line of natural metals like zinc, copper, and stainless steel,” he remarked.

Mark Strauss will represent Nebraska and Iowa. Strauss, who started Strauss Architectural Systems, is committed to and focused on the specification market. “Over the years I have developed a strong working relationship at the specifier, contractor and distributor level, as well as municipality and end user markets,” Strauss notes. “We have a strong belief in training and give more than 300 AIA CES lunch & learn presentations to local architects each year,” he said.

Ryan Arbuckle of Innovative Building Products (IBP), represents energy efficient and LEED approved green building products lines for residential and commercial markets in Utah, Idaho and Nevada. “IBP Building Products is excited to join and work with MetalTech-USA in providing energy-efficient metal building solutions to the architectural and contractor community,” said Arbuckle.

Kenny McMann, National Sales Manager at MetalTech-USA, was key in recruiting the new team. “We’re happy to expand our sales network,” McMann said. “We’re committed to expanding our sales force and training programs to offer the best possible service to our customers.” Mr. McMann is an accredited LEED Green Associate as awarded by the Green Building Certification Institute (GBCI).
